

Motivational Quotes

“A man’s life is what his thoughts make of it.”
- Marcus Aurelius

“One of the greatest discoveries of my generation was that human beings can alter their lives by altering their attitudes of mind.”
- William James

“Whether you believe you can do a thing or you believe you can’t, you are right.”
- Henry Ford

“Be careful what you think about for you will surely get it.”
- Thomas Carlyle

“Do the thing and you will have the power.”
- Emerson

“It’s tough to climb the ladder of success, especially if you’re trying to keep your nose to the grindstone, your shoulder to the wheel, your eye on the ball, and your ear to the ground.”
- Unknown

“Great minds have purposes, others have wishes.”
- Washington Irving

“The man who actually knows just what he wants in life has already gone a long way toward attaining it.”
- Napoleon Hill

“Success is the progressive realization of a worthy goal or ideal.”
- Earl Nightengale

“All truly successful men or women that I have ever met or read about have one thing in common: At some point in their lives, they sat down and wrote their goals. The first great key to success begins with you, a piece of paper and a pencil.”
- Keith DeGreen, Attorney

“Don’t concern yourself with how you’re going to achieve your goals. Leave that to a power greater than yourself. All you need to know is where you are going and the answers will come to you.”
- Dorothea Brandt

Man in the Arena

“It is not the critic who counts: not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs and comes up short again and again, because there is no effort without error or shortcoming, but who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, who spends himself for a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows, in the end, the triumph of high achievement, and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who knew neither victory nor defeat.”

"Citizenship in a Republic," Theodore Roosevelt Speech at the Sorbonne, Paris, 1910
